Where this procedure refers to CIT, it includes CIT Solutions.

This procedure applies to:

- all applicants seeking to enrol in courses at CIT
- enrolled students except for students who are enrolled at CIT as an addition to their high school or senior secondary course of study, where the support will be provided through the student's high school or college
- all CIT staff
- all on and off campus education activities
- CIT activities including:
 - culturally supportive and inclusive learning experiences for Australian Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people
 - careers advice
 - counselling
 - disability support
 - international student support
 - financial assistance
 - job seeker support
 - migrant support
 - youth support
 - LGBTIQ+ support
 - general academic support
 - student equity support
 - study skills support
 - language, literacy, numeracy and digital (LLND) support
- courses funded through specific initiatives of external agencies, sponsors and organisations.

3. Procedure

Identification and provision of support services requires a coordinated approach by CIT Student Support, CIT Student Services, educators, education managers and service specialists.

Students are informed of available support services through the CIT website, on enrolment and through course induction.

Referral to CIT Student Support for prospective or enrolled students may come from:

- student initiated queries via the CIT website, email or phone
- direct referrals from student facing client services staff and teaching areas
- direct referrals from external agencies
- CIT Student Association (CITSA).

Prospective students may access careers and disability advice.

Enrolled students may access to all support services over the course of their enrolment at CIT.

3.4 Disability support services identified

With prior notification of a disability, potential students will be supported through the enrolment process.

All enrolled students identifying as having a disability, registered with CIT Student Support, will be offered the opportunity to meet with a CIT Education Advisor (Disability) to assess their learning and other support needs.

Enrolled and prospective students may be referred to Student Support prior to completion of enrolment by:

- Client Services Staff
- Educational teams
- External agencies
- CIT Careers advisor
- Self-referral
- Provision of ARGOS report downloaded from the Delivery Management Reporting System (PD400) each of week, identifying students as having a disability/disabilities and requiring support.

CIT will follow the principles of reasonable adjustment to determine where an adjustment can be made to allow a student to participate on the same basis as a student without a disability. Requests for the provision of reasonable adjustment to students with a disability will be assessed on a case-by-case basis.

A CIT student with disability who cannot study full-time for reasons directly related to their disability is entitled to a full-time student card if they are undertaking at least 25 per cent of a full-time course.

Personal health information provided by students is treated in accordance with the Health Records Act (Privacy and Access) 1997 and, with permission from the student, will only be shared if this information is deemed relevant for the purposes of making reasonable adjustments and referrals.

CIT may not be able to assist students where the student chooses not to accept or act on advice from the CIT Education Advisor (Disability) regarding enrolment or study loads which may result in their inability to succeed.

Step	Action	Responsibility
1	Send a standard email to each student named in the ARGOS report including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • an overview of services • registration information • an offer of support • contact details for the Student Support (Disability) to enable the student to make an appointment. 5. Definitions

All terminology used in this procedure is consistent with definitions in the CIT Policy Glossary. The following definitions are provided in the context of this policy.

Disability	Defined by the Disability Discrimination ACT 1992 'in relation to a person means: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • total or partial loss of the person's bodily or mental functions; or • total or partial loss of part of the body; or • the presence in the body or organisms causing disease or illness; or • the presence in the body or organisms capable of causing disease or illness; or • the malfunction, malformation, or disfigurement of a part of the person's body; or • a disorder or malfunction that results in the person learning differently from a person without the disorder or malfunction; or • a disorder, illness or disease that affects a person's thought processes, perception of reality, emotions, or judgement or that results in disturbed behaviour.

	And includes a disability that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • presently exists • previously existed but no longer exists • may exist in the future; or is 'imputed to a person'.
Reasonable Adjustment	The Disability Discrimination Act (DDA) requires institutions to take reasonable steps to enable a student with a disability to participate in education on the same basis as a student without a disability. An adjustment is reasonable if it balances the interests of all parties affected. In assessing whether a particular adjustment is reasonable, CIT will consider the: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • student's disability and his/her views • effect of the adjustment on the student, including the effect on his/her ability to achieve learning outcomes, participate in courses and achieve independence • effect of the proposed adjustment on anyone else affected, including the education provider, staff, and other students • costs and benefits of making the adjustment. Reasonable adjustments include but are not limited to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • making training and assessment materials and methods accessible • adapting the physical environment and equipment.
Student Support	Refers to the range of services including support to students identifying as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Australian Aboriginals and/or Torres Strait Islander people • having a disability or disabilities • having specific learning needs • needing wellbeing support.
Wellbeing Services	Wellbeing services scope includes early intervention, clinical counselling, advocacy, health promotion, supportive coaching, and referral. Wellbeing services do not offer clinical or outside of business hours support.
Yurauna	Yurauna is CIT's dedicated Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Educational Centre of Excellence providing tailored student support, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander courses, study support and cultural advice.
