Important information for students

Off-the-Job Training is the class room based delivery and assessment component of the program aims to develop underpinning skills and knowledge and facilitate deeper learning and understanding through monitoring progress, debriefing and sharing knowledge and skills gained through the ongoing practical experience.

On-the-Job Training is scheduled in addition to the class times above and addresses the client based practical implementation requirements. You will be required to participate in various shifts and activities to complete a range of assessable tasks and outcomes for the identified client groups. Shifts, tasks and specific outcomes will be organised and allocated during the first few weeks of the related Off-the-Job sessions. Sessions could include but are not restricted to early morning, lunch, and/or evenings, depending on the availability of clients.
