We are a small family owned and run building and construction business based in Canberra, and we are looking to employ a motivated student on a part-time casual basis to assist with drafting, documentation, and design work across our residential projects.

About the role:

- Part-time/casual hours — flexible around your study timetable
- Based in Canberra (ACT)
- Paid employment at award rates or above
- Hands-on experience working on real projects from day one
- Supportive environment with mentoring from experienced practitioners

Importantly, we use Archline XP as our primary design software. Experience with or a willingness to learn Archline would be highly regarded, though students familiar with other CAD or BIM platforms are also welcome to apply.

The types of tasks would include:

- Drafting working drawings and documentation – New housing / Renovations / extensions / Decks and pergolas
- Assisting with residential and commercial design projects
- 3D modelling and plan preparation
- Supporting senior staff with project administration

This would be an excellent opportunity for a student in the Diploma of Building Design, Certificate IV in Residential Drafting, or a related program who is looking to build real-world industry experience alongside their studies.
